

FROM THE LIBRARY

The Summer Reading Program will certainly be lively next Wednesday when Bongo Barry is here to perform. He brings lots of action and music in his shows as well as a theme of the importance of reading. He's been a favorite with kids in Valley Center for four or five years. Be sure to bring your kids and enjoy the show. In our first week with storyteller, Priscilla Howe, we had almost 300 kids and 65 adults at the two performances. Let's see if we can top those numbers for a record-breaking summer! Numbers will be available in next week's article about attendance for magician Eric Vaughn's performances this week.

We continue to need large buttons (minimum of 1" in diameter) to use in a craft later in the summer. We also need 16 oz. drink bottles – clean and dry, please. Everyone has been very generous with the donation of oatmeal and peanut containers. Those will also be used in a few weeks.

Thanks to everyone who came by the moonwalk at Moonlight Madness. We appreciate your interest and support.

Today is Tuesday, June 9. As of this morning, we've had 1,500 people in the library since June 1. Keep up the good work Valley Center! Be sure to frequently check our website for changes and information: <http://www.valleycenterpubliclibrary.com>
